

BEDERG-DeReCK Joint Workshop

25 June 2024, 2:00-4:00pm

Room: PSR4 (Pears Building, Medical School)

- |                   |                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|-------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 2:00- 2:05 | Welcome                                                                                                                                                                                |
| 2:05- 2:30 | Injunctive Norms &amp; MisperceptionJosh Hill, BEDERG, UEA                                                                                                        |
| 2:30- 2:55 | Changing attitudes through information exposure: Experimental Evidence on Reducing Agricultural Burning in Rural NigeriaUchenna Efobi, DeReCK, University of Kent |
| 2:55- 3:25 | Right in the Middle: A Field Experiment On The Role Of Integrity Training And Norms In Combating CorruptionOana Borcan, BEDERG, UEA                               |
| 3:25- 3:55 | Community Surveillance and Child MarriageZaki Wahhaj, DeReCK, University of Kent                                                                                  |
| 3:55- 4:00 | Closing                                                                                                                                                                                |